

Discuss A Tieup Of Liner

Dispute Over Discrimination By An Officer

NEW YORK (AP)—National Maritime Union officers meet today to decide whether to extend the tieup of the luxury liner America to any of 53 other United States Lines' ships.

The America, second in size only to the S.S. United States in the nation's maritime fleet, is docked here. Her regular transatlantic voyage has been canceled in a dispute over alleged racial-religious discrimination by one of her officers.

NMU President Joseph Curran said the AFL-CIO Union's national officers would decide today about further action that may be taken against U.S. Lines for "violation of our contract, which bans any form of racial or religious discrimination aboard ship."

The scheduled Saturday noon sailing of the 33,961 gross-ton liner for British and European ports was canceled when NMU crew members refused to sail with senior engineer Louis Neuhr. They accused him of discriminating against Negro, Puerto Rican and Jewish crewmen.

The NMU represents about 550 of the America's 700 crew members—some 40 per cent of whom are Negroes and Puerto Ricans. The union demanded that Neuhr be removed.

But the AFL-CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, which has been involved in an interunion skirmish with NMU, refused to accept even temporary removal of its member, Neuhr.

The MEBA, an officers' union, said the charges against the first assistant engineer were "only allegations—no body has given us any proof." Neuhr denied the charges of discrimination.

The America's 964 passengers, most of whom stayed aboard Saturday night, Sunday sought alternate means of transportation.

Offer Reward For Arrest Of Whites

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—A $1,000 reward has been offered for the arrest of the leaders of a gang of white persons who beat two Negro clergymen on the steps of the public library.

Mayor Claude Dear posted the bounty Sunday night after meeting with a group of Negro ministers.

An estimated 100 whites assaulted the Negroes with fists and feet Sunday afternoon. One of the assailants used a chain, police said.

The ministers—the Revs. Quintus Reynolds and W. B. McClain—were members of a recently-organized biracial committee to advise the city commission on community problems such as segregation.

A white minister, the Rev. J. Phillips Noble, chairman of the biracial group, indicated that Reynolds and McClain planned to use facilities of the heretofore white library.

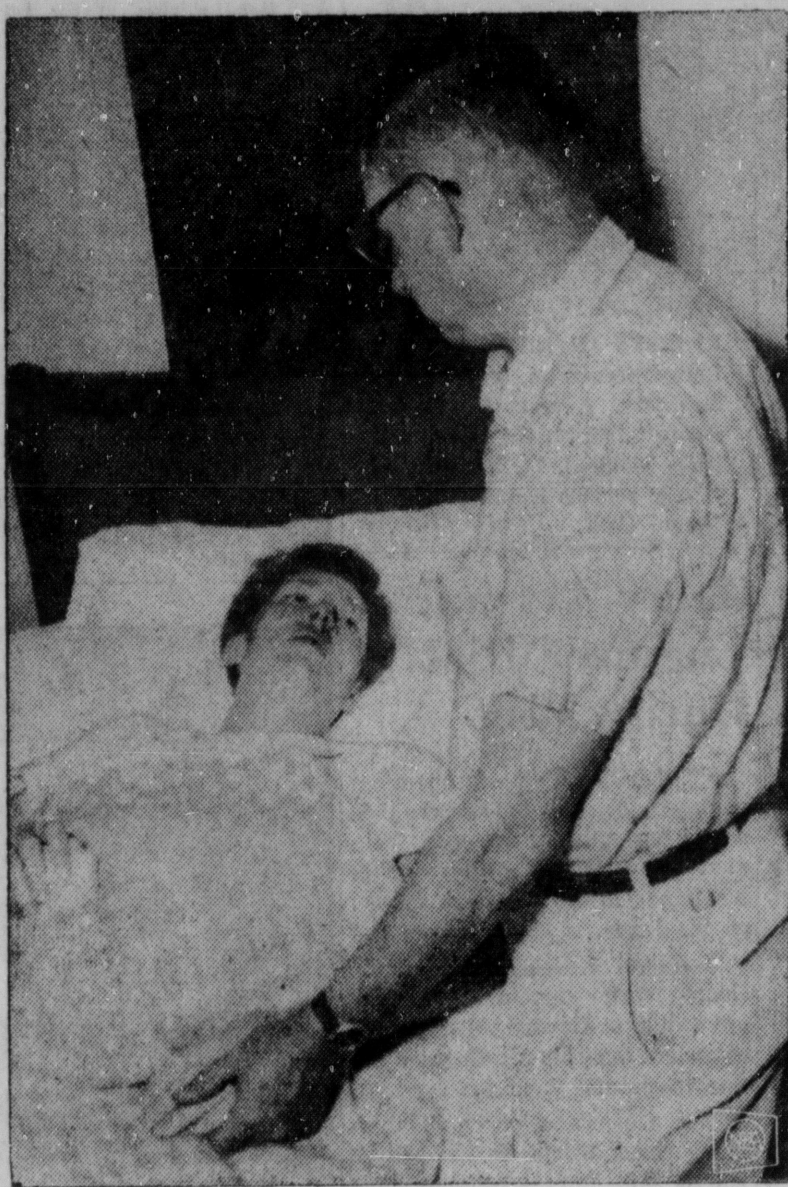

Caution Parents Of New Hours At Heber Hunt

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin today cautioned parents with children attending Heber U. Hunt elementary school not to allow their youngsters to leave for class until 8:30 a.m.

Hamlin said police officers to direct youngsters across dangerous intersections at Broadway and Warren, Broadway and State Fair Blvd. and Fifth and Limit will not be on duty until 8:30 a.m. The school has moved its starting time back to 9 a.m. and some youngsters are arriving quite early, Hamlin said.

The chief pointed out officers try to be at the intersections a few minutes early, but said Monday some children were noted going to Heber U. Hunt before 8 a.m.

Also along the safety line, Sedalia police officers Monday began distributing some 3,800 safety coloring books to elementary school children in the city. The coloring books stress points in safety and are provided to the department free of charge.

Realistic Look

Remarriage Could Hinder Or Help Rocky's Chances

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says it's "realistic" to look upon his remarriage as seriously damaging his chances for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

"I have a very deep understanding of the reactions of individuals in this situation," he said.

Military Aid To Some Is Costly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military assistance to nations whose borders are overshadowed by the guns of their Communist neighbors is still the costliest single item of U.S. foreign aid, President Kennedy told Congress today.

The lion's share of the military aid is being spent to stem the Chinese Communist threat in the Far East, Kennedy said in his annual report on how U.S. aid is being used.

The report, covering military and economic aid programs in fiscal 1962, did not include more recent outlays, but administration officials said the trend this year is still much the same.

Increasing amounts of economic help are being shifted to Latin America, where the report said "the prospect for the near future is a continuing effort by the international Communist movement to obstruct and retard the Alliance for Progress."

As for Goldwater, the Arizona said in an AP interview that if he decides to go after the presidential nomination, one of the main reasons would be his belief that as head of the ticket he could help Republicans get elected to the House and Senate in the South, Midwest and West.

"Win, lose or draw, if I were the nominee, I believe I could help get a lot of Republicans elected," he said.

He noted that the Gallup Poll now has Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona in the lead for the nomination, but said he believes someone else could end up with the big prize.

Biggest Wheat Order

New Contract On Trade By Soviet, Canada

OTTAWA (AP)—The Soviet Union signed today the biggest wheat purchase pact in Canadian history, ordering nearly $500 million worth of wheat and wheat flour for delivery in the next 10½ months.

The order is for 198 million bushels of wheat and flour equal to another 29.5 million bushels.

Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp and S. A. Borisov, Russia's first deputy minister for foreign trade, signed the deal as part of a new three-year trade agreement between Canada and the Soviet Union.

Sharp said the new wheat order, added to a recent 11 million-bushel order by Russia, is equal to two-thirds of total Canadian wheat and wheat flour shipments made in the entire 1962-63 crop year.

He said it will bring Canadian wheat exports in the 1963-64 crop year ending next July 31 to a record 550 million bushels.

This year's exports would bring in foreign exchange earnings of more than a billion dollars.

The deal calls for Russia to pay 25 per cent in cash for each individual shipment, with the remainder over 18 months.

Borisov, speaking in Russian with a translator at his side, said trade must be a two-way street and that Russia has a wide variety of goods Canada can buy.

Spinal Fusion In the Offing For Kennedy

By J. A. DEAR

WASHINGTON—Another spinal operation is in the offing for President Kennedy.

The recent recrudescence of his back ailment has convinced top-flight specialists that he will have to consent to corrective surgery.

The operation—a spinal fusion—is mostly a matter of good engineering, say the doctors. Bone from the President's body would be fused into his spine. Complete recovery within ten days is usual.

President Kennedy's back ailment dates back to that day in the Navy when a Japanese destroyer rammed the PT boat of which he was skipper.

While in the Senate the President underwent spinal surgery which very nearly proved fatal. The trouble then, say doctors, is that metal was used to strengthen Mr. Kennedy's spine, and his body wouldn't tolerate it. The use of bone would preclude recurrence of that difficulty.

Dr. Berbos told a news conference that he hadn't delivered any more babies since the birth of the quintuplets.

Looking at a score of newsmen crowded into the hospital lounge, Berbos smiled and said: "They've all been scared off."

Fischer and three of his other five children attended Mass Sunday at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, escorted in and out by a platoon of reporters and photographers.

It wasn't far away from birth-day time for any of the three youngsters. Julie was 6 Sunday, Charlotte will be 7 Wednesday and Danny will be 8 Oct. 5. The other Fischer children are Evelyn, 4, and Denise, 3.

While the father and Dr. Berbos were busy with periodic news conferences in the hospital cafeteria Sunday, Mrs. Fischer rested in her third-floor room and tried to think of names for the four girls. They all were named Mary but have no second names. The boy was named James Andrew.

Roman Catholic Bishop Lambert A. Hoch chartered a plane from Sioux Falls Saturday to baptize and confirm the quintuplets as they lay in their Isolettes, kept comfortable by controlled heat, humidity and oxygen.

Police officers will sharpen their shooting eyes with a major target practice session Wednesday at a rock quarry on West Main Street Road.

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin said besides sidearms firing, officers will be provided an old car as a target which they will shoot at from a moving vehicle. Some practice in the use of tear gas projectiles is also scheduled.

Shooting sessions are slated for 7:30 a.m., 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Some members of the Police Personnel Board and City Council are expected to take part in the practice, Hamlin said.

The Weather

White Pupils Returning To Classes

Segregationists Pleading For School Boycott

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—White pupils appeared to be returning to classes here today in larger numbers than last week despite pleas from segregationists for a school boycott.

Two Negro girls attending West End High School arrived in a station wagon and walked quietly into the formerly white school about 7:50 a.m. White pupils stood in small gatherings and watched, but there were no demonstrations like those which broke out last week.

White pupils arrived in automobiles and apparently were being escorted to the school by parents or other adults.

About 75 policemen were in the school area, but there were no spectators. There were no Confederate flags.

As students arrived, police made them go into the school. Two segregationist groups urged total boycotts of three integrated schools Sunday although they called for an end to demonstrations.

Two other newly integrated Birmingham schools saw an increase in attendance also. They are Ramsay High School and Graymont Elementary School.

One Negro is enrolled at Ramsay and two Negro brothers are attending Graymont. They arrived with their parents. White pupils watched quietly and there was no disturbance.

Two Negro pupils entered Murphy High School at Mobile today with no incidents.

Bond Issue, Speed Hikes Council Items

While no formal agenda has been announced by Mayor L. L. Studer, tonight's City Council session is expected to include at least two items of major importance to Sedalians.

Foremost on the schedule is the unveiling of the date selected for the sewer bond election and the amount to be voted. At a joint meeting of the citizens' sewer bond committee and the City Council held Sept. 9 at the Chamber of Commerce, seven of the councilmen and Mayor Studer approved a date for the bond election. This date, however, will not be made public until tonight.

Also expected to be set by the council is the type of bond issue planned. Both revenue and general obligation bonds have been proposed. Mayor Studer has stated a preference for revenue bonds; the Burns & McDonnell engineer report suggested general obligation bonds. Preference of the City Council remains unknown. The amount, expected to be in the neighborhood of $3 million, is scheduled to be disclosed.

Whether or not the City Council will go along with the recommendation of the Citizens' Traffic Advisory Committee to increase by 5 miles per hour the speed limit on the widened portion of Broadway and a portion of South Highway 65 in exchange for a traffic control light at 16th and Limit from the State Highway Department will be decided.

Four members of the 10-man advisory committee made the recommendation last week, but such a step would require council approval. The council recently tabled the proposal until such time as work on the relocation of North Highway 65 is completed and another meeting with Highway Department officials can be obtained.

Order Federal Jury To Probe Outbreaks

Calm Prevails Following Bomb Deaths On Sunday

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Against a background of violence and death, a special federal grand jury was ordered today to investigate racial outbreaks that continue to plague this city.

U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence W. Allgood, in his charge to the grand jury, emphasized the dynamite explosion at a Negro church Sunday which killed four children and injured 23 other persons.

A calm prevailed in Birmingham this morning, especially around the church and the three recently desegregated schools. There was no report of violence.

FBI agents and bomb experts conducted an exhaustive search for clues. Three hundred state troopers and 500 National Guardsmen remained on alert, ready to back up Birmingham police if fresh violence erupted.

The bomb blast was described by Allgood, a native of Birmingham.

BULLETIN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Negro leaders called today for federal Army occupation of this racially-torn city in the wake of a church bombing and shootings which left six Negroes dead and more than a score of persons injured.

ham as a "mockery of our laws—a mockery by those who would cut the very roots of our American system of justice."

The bombing brought swift condemnation from national Negro leaders and state and local officials.

It was deplored in the U.S. Senate as a tragic blow to race relations. A plea was sounded for quicker action on civil rights legislation.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy canceled two speaking engagements in Philadelphia to stay in his Washington office.

Mayor Albert Boutwell of Birmingham said he couldn't understand such viciousness and Gov. George Wallace called for the capture of the bombers.

"Today has been the most frightening in the history of Birmingham," said Sheriff Melvin Bailey as scattered outbreaks of violence occurred after the bombing.

Two Negroes were killed in shootings and three other persons were injured.

Allgood told the grand jury that racial violence in the name of "tradition and freedom" is heresy.

He called for an indictment of anyone who has unlawfully obstructed court-ordered desegregation of Birmingham schools.

Ratification Spurned By Robertson

Only 11 of 100 Senators On The Doubtful Side

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said today that ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty could confront the United States with "terrifying blackmail" by Russia.

Robertson, in a prepared Senate speech, said that he would "violate the dictates of my conscience" to support the pact.

On the other side of the debate, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., declared that "if this treaty doesn't work, then a future nuclear war will in all probability 'solve' our problems."

Support for the treaty also came from Sens. Maurice Neuberger, D-Ore., and George McGovern, D-S.D.

Robertson said he believes that as a result of the treaty "the Soviet Union will first gain equality with us in atomic weapons."

"Then," he said, "if it develops before we do a satisfactory and operational antimissile missile, we and the free nations of the world will then be confronted with terrifying blackmail."

"In my opinion, there can be no doubt that our leadership of the free world depends upon our recognized ability to defend it from Russian aggression, and we stand to lose that ability by ratifying the test ban treaty."

Charge President With Taking Liquor

Herman W. President, Jr., 28, 502 West Morgan, was charged Monday morning with stealing under $50 in connection with the theft of 33 half-pints of liquor taken Sept. 11 from the Melody Lounge, 207 East Main.

The state warrant was filed in Magistrate Court by Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz after Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin had turned over information concerning the case to the prosecutor.

President was picked up Sunday by police and after questioning he admitted to Hamlin and Sgt. Perry Franklin that he had taken liquor from the establishment. Some of the liquor, reported in value at $45, had been sold, police said.

Expression Of Outrage And Grief

JFK Calls Deaths Folly Of Racial Injustice, Hatred

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy expressed "outrage and grief" today over the bomb killing of four Negro children in Birmingham, Ala. He said he hoped the incident would awaken the nation to "the folly of racial injustice and hatred and violence."

Kennedy said if there is this realization, "then it is not too late for all concerned to unite in steps toward peaceful progress before more lives are lost."

In a special statement, Kennedy said the United States stands for "domestic justice and tranquility."

He added: "I call upon every citizen, white and Negro, North and South, to put passions and prejudices aside and join in this effort—to promote justice and tranquility."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Kennedy conferred several times during the morning with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on the situation in Birmingham.

Salinger also reported that Kennedy had some official discussions of the Birmingham situation shortly before midnight Sunday night on his return from a long weekend in Newport, R.I.

In his statement, Kennedy said at the outset: "I know I speak on behalf of all Americans in expressing a deep sense of outrage and grief over the killing of the children Sunday in Birmingham, Ala."

He said it is regrettable "that public disparagement of law and order has encouraged violence which has fallen on the innocent."

Kennedy praised "the Negro leaders of Birmingham who are counseling restraint instead of violence." He said they are "bravely serving their ideals in their most difficult task—for principles of peaceful self-control are least appealing when most needed."

Brawl Brings Egg Tossing And Scuffles

NEW YORK (AP)—A brawl involving 80 persons, egg-throwing and scuffles with police developed from a rally held near Times Square Sunday by students who recently violated the State Department ban on travel to Cuba.

The students held the Town Hall rally to discuss conditions they found in Cuba. They contended they were not allowed to describe them at violence-marked hearings before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in Washington last week.

Some 1,400 persons filtered into the hall on West 43rd Street and at one point 80 persons engaged in a free-for-all that disrupted the meeting for 20 minutes.

During the melee, an anti-Castro demonstrator was knocked unconscious. He required hospital treatment.

When the two-hour meeting ended, helmeted police formed a corridor through which the 1,400 persons could pass safely from the hall to a nearby subway station.

Persons at the rally were heckled and became targets for eggs and other foodstuffs hurled by anti-Castroites, some 50 of whom had been picketing the hall.

Ann Landers

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teenage boy who wants to say something to that loud-mouthed kid who said he didn't see any sense in honoring his parents just because they happen to be older. He said his parents are stupid jerks and so are the parents of most of his friends.

I don't have any parents to honor, but if I did I would honor them plenty. My dad was killed in an accident when I was 11 years old. He was the greatest guy who ever lived. He was only 35 years old when he died but I'm thankful I had 11 years with him.

My mom died last summer. I don't think the ache in my heart will ever go away. She was a truly wonderful woman.

So please, Ann Landers, print this letter so other kids can see it. Let them know they are blessed if they have their parents. And tell them for me that if they are smart they will honor their parents while they are still on earth. I wish I was so lucky.—FIFTEEN AND ALONE.

Dear Fifteen: I wouldn't attempt to add a single word to what you have written. Thank you, Son. I wish you were mine.

Dear Ann Landers: A good friend of ours has taken up painting as a hobby. She says it is much cheaper than psychoanalysis and it is doing her twice as much good.

Yesterday she brought over an enormous canvas, expensively framed. It looks like a bull ape from one angle and an abandoned copper mine from the other. It could be hung upside down or sideways and no one would know the difference. She had the nerve to say it was HER impression of ME. My wife couldn't stop laughing.

I don't want to hang the monstrosity but my wife says it would be a terrible insult if we didn't hang it—especially after she went to the trouble of having it framed especially for our living room. If you think this is a gag let me assure you it is not. I would like your frank opinion.—B. D. O.

Dear B. D. O.: The picture sounds like a great conversation piece and I hope you will hang it, at least for a while. A sense of humor is what separates man from bull apes and copper mines.

Dear Ann Landers: May I have just a few inches of your valuable newspaper space to get across a point I had to learn the hard way? It is simply this: The wife who chews at her husband, nags and criticizes him will surely drive him away. No wife ever got love or attention by demanding it.

I married at 19—and there was no greener, more stupid, more self-centered girl in the world than I was. My husband was an attractive, somewhat serious type who was struggling in the academic field. I felt he was not paying enough attention to me and I accused him of being unfaithful.

I kept him up late at night, questioning, arguing and attacking. He seldom answered, nor did he attempt to defend himself. One day he quietly told me that I had completely destroyed his love for me and suggested that I file suit for a divorce. I was certain he had another woman (I was wrong) and we split up.

Now eight years later I am 80 years wiser. I'm about to marry a perfectly wonderful man and this time I am going to make home a comfortable and delightful place to be. A place where he will find joy, contentment and peace.—LESSON LEARNED.

Dear Lesson: Thanks for sharing your experience with us. Yours is a letter which should be clipped and referred to often by young wives who are having husband trouble.

Wanda Johnson, Marvin Kreisel Wed by Candlelight on Aug. 31

Large baskets of white gladioli and orchid chrysanthemums, with candelabra entwined with greenery, decorated the Methodist Church in Windsor at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, Aug. 31, for the marriage of Miss Wanda Jean Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Johnson, Route 2, Windsor, and Mr. Marvin Lee Kreisel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kreisel, Chilhowee. The Rev. William R. Butts, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Carl Gregory sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Larry Elliott at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white chiffon over taffeta with scalloped lace jacket.

Her fingertip veil of illusion, made of net, fell from a crown of seeded pearls. She carried a cascade of red sweetheart rosebuds with green fern and white streamers and a white lace handkerchief given to her by Mrs. Carolyn Milam.

Miss Ida Ruckman, Ottumwa, maid of honor, and Mrs. Edward Meads, Windsor, bridesmaid, wore sleeveless dresses of orchid chiffon over taffeta with scoop necklines and box pleated skirts. They carried cascades of white carnations with orchid streamers.

Miss Arlene Johnson, sister of the bride, and Miss Connie Raney, cousin of the bride, lighted candles. They were dressed like the other attendants.

Miss Brenda Hale, Richland, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of orchid chiffon over taffeta with bow neckline and gathered skirt and dropped red rose petals in the path of the bride.

Master Duane Goodrick, Kansas City, nephew of the bride, carried a white satin pillow, to which rings were attached with ribbons.

Mr. Richard Jones, Leeton, was best man. Mr. Ronald Johnson, brother of the bride, was groomsmen and Mr. Leroy Johnson, Leeton, also a brother of the bride, and Mr. Glen Kreisel, Sedalia, brother of the bridegroom, served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a light blue sheath dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages with their costumes.

A reception was held in the church dining room after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over orchid on which was centered the three tiered wedding cake, which was decorated in pink and white with candles on each side.

Mrs. Glen Kreisel, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Jack Goodrick, Kansas City, sister of the bride, served punch. Cake was served by Mrs. Mack Hunter, Laredo, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Leroy Johnson, Leeton, sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Robert Brown, cousin of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Billie Treece, Windsor, and Miss Evelyn Rice, Green Ridge, presided at the gift table. Mrs. Carolyn Milam and Mrs. Ronald Lovan, aunt of the bride, assisted.

There were 100 guests at the reception.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Kreisel wore a light apricot two piece suit dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

20 Students Will Debate Big Question

Twenty students, the largest class in debate in recent years at Smith-Cotton, will debate the question "Resolved that the federal government should provide complete medical care for all citizens at public expense," Francis M. Kunkler, Director of S-C Forensics, announced today. This question will be debated by all of the nation's high schools this year. The question is decided by the Missouri State High School Activities Association in conjunction with the National Forensic League.

The teams already selected are Bob Gouge and Ted Wells, seniors, Larry Horton, senior; John Owen and Arthur Hoffman, juniors, and Kenney Fine and Terry Feig, sophomores. Gouge and Wells have had two years of experience while Owen and Hoffman have had one. The other four boys are entering debate for the first time this year. One or two girl teams will be set up; as yet they have not been announced. Those students not yet teamed up include Linda Dyer, Mike McMurdo, Roger Spencer, Susan McCarty, David Hoehns, Susan Coons, and Ann Durlay.

The classes' interests do not lie in the field of debate alone, Kunkler emphasized. Many students will try out for the individual events which are offered at most tournaments. Two students, Tona Handley and Carl Espelin, are devoting their time solely to these events which include original oratory, oratorical declamation, extemporaneous speaking, humorous reading, and dramatic interpretation.

One member of the debate class, John Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, attended the University of Kansas this summer where he participated in its summer speech program. He took courses in argumentation, debate analysis, parliamentary procedure and public speaking. He not only won the tournament at the end of the session, but was also proclaimed "Best Speaker of the Tournament."

The debate squad plans to campaign most extensively in western and southern Missouri. The squad also expressed hopes of traveling into Kansas and Oklahoma. The first tournament which will see Tiger debater participation will be held at Rockhurst College in Kansas City on Nov. 1 and 2. Army Arsenal Engineer Dies During Visit

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A chemical engineer at the top-secret U.S. Army Arsenal at Edgewood, Md., died early Sunday while visiting his father in Kirkwood, a suburb of St. Louis.

Raymond I. Harris, St. Louis County coroner, said an autopsy on William Richard Muther, 55, revealed that his death was not due to natural causes.

"We are having our toxic laboratory check tissues in his body," Harris said. "Army officials have been in contact with us and we've asked them to furnish us information regarding what types of chemicals he worked with."

Harris said Muther was employed by the arsenal's bacteriological, biological and chemical research center. He worked with toxic gases and chemicals, an Army spokesman said, which could cause death to anyone exposed to them.

Muther died at the home of his father, Edmond Muther, 82.

The elder Muther called police after finding an identification card on his son, which said the Army base's toxic agent first aid center should be called in case of emergency.

Muther's father said he and his son had attended a movie Saturday night and young Muther appeared to be in excellent health.

Muther has been an Army employee for 23 years. He was single.

Mary Humphreys, Robert Kueffer Are Married in New Bloomfield

The sanctuary of Dixie Christian Church, New Bloomfield, was the scene of the Sunday afternoon Sept. 8 wedding, uniting in marriage Miss Mary Ann Humphreys and Mr. Robert Eugene Kueffer. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Humphreys, New Bloomfield, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kueffer, California.

The Rev. Stanley East, pastor, read the ceremony before an altar table which held an open Bible. Behind the altar table was an arrangement of white gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums. Honey-suckle entwined two seven branch candelabra, which held tapers. Palms were in the background setting.

Mrs. Andy Cave played wedding music and accompanied Miss Gloria Reynolds, New Bloomfield, who sang "Always" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Mr. Wayne Brooks, Fulton, and Mr. Richard Lenz, Prairie Home, were ushers and lighted candles.

The bride's father escorted her to the altar and presented her for marriage. She wore a gown of silk organza fashioned with a basque bodice featuring a modified Sabrina neckline, scalloped with Chantilly lace. The sleeves were long and tapered to points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt featured a bow at the waistline from which soft folds of organza floated into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of English silk illusion was caught by a tiara of Chantilly lace, tiny pearls and crystal teardrops. Her jewelry was a matched necklace and earring set, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered white carnations centered with a white and yellow orchid.

Style Show First Event Of Season

One of the first events of the season is a style show and card party sponsored by the S-Club and will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Agriculture Building at the Missouri State Fairgrounds. This is the first time the S-Club has held such a function and if it is successful plan to make it an annual event. The Agriculture Building was chosen because this time of year the weather is unpredictable, but with this building the S-Club members have no worries — if it is cold they can turn on the heat, if it is hot they can turn on the air conditioner.

The local stores will present a show of beautiful fashions for fall and winter, modeled by the following women and girls: Burt-on's, Mrs. Jerry Bredwell, Miss Carolyn Zahring, Miss Shirley Moon, Miss Mertie Ford, Miss Mary Lee Lyle, Mrs. Vernon Stice, Mrs. Bill Watson and Mrs. Paul Joquel; Chapman's, Bobby Bigelow, Sandy Severeid, Pam Langus, Marcia Nance, Doty Ecker, Candy Taylor, Lavonne Fisher, Cheryl Ecker, Jean Gre-million, Rae Jones, and Beth Chandler; Connor-Wagoner, Linda Porter, Charla Porter, Cammie Rose, Barbara Freund, Debbie Foster, Paulette Lewis; Naomi Jackson, Linda Gray, Christina Rose and Ann Whitaker; Dora's Fashion Shop, Mary Lou Broyles, Betty Viebrock, Dorothy Huffman, Patty Riley, Sharon Dick, Janet Landes, Linda Bain, Barbara Arnold, and Kathy Gibson; Flower's, Sue Wilbur, Barbara Schrader, Mary Peterson, Mary McCarty, Jill Hopkins, Cynthia Stauffer, Sandy Parkhurst, Hazel Brown, Sandy Severeid, Donna Wilson, and Jennifer Sullivan; Lockett's, Joyce Blazer, Jerry Schroeder, Pam Letterman, Lucy Lockett, Sherry Shanahan, Lynn Lockett, Lou Ann Lange, Marsha Eding and Linda Burton; Mode O'Day, Peggy Robb, Lou Kennedy, Gloria Smith and Marguerite Parrott; Montgomery Ward's, Deanie Hauson, Linda Williams, Sherry Parker, Connie Buso, Nancy Cripes and Tony Gier; Jiedel Vogue Shop, Miss Janet Walker, Miss Anita Mooneyhan, Mrs. William Eckerle, Mrs. Ray Young, Mrs. Robert Ruckman, Mrs. David Eisenstein, Mrs. William Burkholder and Mrs. Charles O'dell.

The S-Club is made up of former Smith-Cotton students who received letters for outstanding activities in which they participated and achievements in their senior year and maintaining an "M" average in grades.

The fashion show and card party is a project to secure funds for scholarships given by the club to deserving students. All of the profit from this project will go into scholarships, the club keeps none of it.

Woman Tells Story Of Husband's Death On Drifting Cruiser

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — "He kept asking for water. He became delirious after about three days. Then he was gone."

That's the way Mrs. Stuart L. Slade described the death of her husband as they drifted aboard their disabled cruiser.

A small, wiry woman with a deep tan, Mrs. Slade was rescued after 10 days adrift in the leaky cabin cruiser. The last three days were spent beside the body of her husband.

The tanker Perryville rescued Mrs. Slade Saturday. A Coast Guard cutter attempted to take the cruiser in tow, but it sank, with Slade's body. Mrs. Slade reached Jacksonville Sunday night.

The tanker spotted the cruiser, Crystal, about 120 miles northeast of Jacksonville. The Slades had left Miami for the Bahamas, but 20 miles from Miami the engine quit and they drifted northward with the Gulf Stream.

Laboratory Design For MU Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Design of a $374,000 research laboratory for the Department of Agriculture at the University of Missouri has been accepted by the General Services Administration.

The T-shaped, single story structure will house offices and laboratories for the biological insects. The building of 11,278 square feet of floor space will be located in the university's new Research Park.

Announcement of the approval was made today by Sens. Stuart Symington and Edward Long and Rep. Richard Ichord. The three said they were informed bids for construction would be requested soon after the first of the year and construction probably would begin early next spring.

lision swerved to the right and the cars collided on the driveway.

The left front fender of the truck was extensively damaged and damage resulted to the right rear of the Ford car.

Dillon was given a patrol summons for failure to yield the right of way.

An automobile which sped out of Garst's Drive Inn and headed west on Broadway figured in a hit-and-run accident at 10th and Massachusetts as police were giving chase of the speeding car about 12:50 o'clock Sunday morning. The occupants of the automobile were not injured and succeeded in leaving the car several blocks away from the scene and disappeared into the night.

Officers Al Blankenship and Gordon McDowell noted the car speed out of the drive and thence down Broadway and gave pursuit. The car a 1962 Ford convertible with an Ohio license on it went to Missouri, thence south to Ninth street, thence east on Ninth to Tenth and made a big swing eastward on Tenth, and crashed into the rear of the 1959 Buick sedan of J. A. "Pat" Clark, 1001 South Massachusetts.

The car continued on eastward to Thompson where several youths jumped out of the car and disappeared. The driver turned south on Thompson to 11th street, then turned the car into the driveway at 644 East 11th, where the driver stopped, got out of the car and ran.

Two other patrol cars started moving into the area when the officers announced they were on the chase, but they were eluded by the occupants. The driver ran through back yards and over several fences.

Sunday morning, it was reported three persons appeared at police headquarters including a 16-year-old boy who was alleged to have been the driver.

The boy was held and turned over to Sheriff Emmett Fairfax to be detained until his parents come from Dayton, Ohio, to return him home.

The other two were Charles G. Dear, of WAFB, 21, brother of the juvenile, and Richard Lee Katzenback, of Dayton. Dear and Katzenback were released on $50 bond for a police summons of trying to elude police officers.

The juvenile is to be turned over to juvenile authorities in connection with leaving the scene of an accident, careless and imprudent driving, and trying to elude police officers, according to the police.

Two cars were damaged in a collision at 7:23 p.m. Sunday at Broadway and Engineer.

Involved, according to police, were a 1951 Buick, being driven west on Broadway by Henry A. Annan, 63, Shenandoah, Ia., and a 1950 Ford, being driven north on Engineer by John E. Wolf, 20, 1415 East 12th.

The left door of the Buick and the right fender of the Ford were damaged.

Two cars were involved in a minor accident on the parking lot of Garst's Drive-In, 115 West Broadway, at 7:37 p.m. Sunday.

Involved, according to police, were a 1961 Ford, driven by Glenda A. Teter, 20, Smithton, and a 1957 Pontiac, driven by Shirley King, 20, Ionia. The right front of the Teter auto was reported damaged. No damage was listed to the King car.

Freddie Wayne Goforth, 18, Elk Creek, Mo., is hospitalized at Latham Hospital in California following an unusual mishap at 10:50 a.m. Sunday a half mile north of Clarksburg on Route M.

The Highway Patrol said a 1963 Ford truck, driven by Roy N. Miller, 51, Van Buren, Mo., was pulling a drag in loose gravel and the drag had come loose. The truck stopped under a hillcrest and the Goforth youth was rehooking the drag when a northbound 1963 Chevrolet stationwagon, driven by John Allen Singer, 23, of Tipton, came over the hill.

As Singer attempted to stop his vehicle the stationwagon went into a skid and struck the Goforth youth.

Tobaben and Wells

Pasture Winners

September pasture winners included Milton Tobaben of Lake Creek Township for the south side of the county and C. E. Wells of Cedar Township for the north side.

The 6-acre Tobaben pasture was nominated by the Extension Council member in Lake Creek Township, Clarence Schlesselman. The field is terraced and was seeded in September, 1962, to Orchard Grass, Alfalfa and Ladino Clover. The seed was put on with a drill. The field had been brought up to soil test previously.

Two cuttings of hay were taken from the field this spring and summer and there were 14 calves grazing upon it at the time of my visit recently. There was a real good stand of not only the orchard grass but also the alfalfa and Ladino Clover.

The Wells pasture was nominated by one of our Soils and Crops Delegates, Otis Thomas. It is located just north of the R.E.A. building on the east side of Highway 65 north of Sedalia.

It contains 12 acres of Orchard Grass and Alfalfa. Both of these were seeded with the wheat during the latter part of September, 1962. The orchard grass was mixed with the wheat and went through the grain box of the drill while the alfalfa was put through the grass seeder. The Pawnee wheat made 27 bushels per acre, and the alfalfa and wheat straw was baled immediately after wheat harvest. Wells has had 36 dairy cows on this 12 acres of alfalfa and orchard grass and an adjoining 15 acres of blue grass and lespedeza for the last two months.

Since this field only had a starter fertilizer at seeding time, Wells is planning to top dress it, yet this fall.

Plan to Attend Turf Conference
I saw E. M. (Doc) Johnson, local lawn and tree specialist, in a cafe recently.

He was asking me if I was going to be able to attend the Lawn and Turf Conference at the University at Columbia on Sept. 18 and 19. He went on to say that he, Fred Karigan, and Leo Bopp, were making tentative plans to attend.

University Tour on Nov. 13

We have received assurance that a school bus will be available for the University tour on Wednesday, Nov. 13. This is a tour being planned by the hog and livestock committees of the county to see the livestock and veterinary facilities at the University. It will be an all-day tour and tickets will again cost $2.

Secretary Freeman at Hannibal

We have received information that Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will be attending a "grass roots" meeting in the high school auditorium at Hannibal at 8 p.m., on Saturday, Sept. 21. I understand that the secretary is particularly interested that a large percentage of the audience be made up of farmers.

Wheats Resistant to Hessian Fly Surveys in 1963 show Hessian Fly numbers greatly reduced throughout the state. Early seeding of susceptible varieties for emergency fall pasture could result in a fall build-up with increased damage to the 1964 grain crop.

There are five wheats recommended by the Field Crops Department for planting in Missouri that carry a high degree of resistance to Hessian Fly. These include two hard wheats—Ponca and Ottawa, and three soft wheats—Knox 62, Monon, and Red Coat. If we seed wheats that are susceptible to Hessian Fly we should wait until after our local fly-free date of the 6th to the 8th of October.

There is also a chemical control called Phorate. The trade name is Di-Syston and it takes ten pounds of ten per cent granules put through the grass seeder attachment on the drill at the time the wheat is seeded. It will take about 2 or 3 bushels of wheat per acre to pay the cost of using this material and you cannot use this treated wheat for fall pasture.

Seed Treatment for Small Grain

Seed treatment is going to be a help if you are planting any of the small grains on fields that have a record of trouble from root rots and seedling blights. Barley has given more than a 6-bushel increase in yield by controlling smut alone. While it may not increase wheat yields it would usually give a higher testing, disease free grain. The seed treatment materials that have a mercury base have ordinarily given best control of smuts, scab, seedling blights and root rots on small grains. Either dust or liquid treatments are satisfactory.

Avoid Seed Peddlers

The seed peddler is making his rounds, this time selling Clark 63 Soybeans. The Clark 63 is an improvement over the straight Clark bean, but our Missouri growers will be selling them for a dollar to a dollar and a half per bushel less than the price that they are being offered by out-of-state seed companies by peddlers now.

Treating Beef Cattle for Grubs

The three Systemic Insecticides that are being recommended to treat beef cattle for grubs include Co-Ral, Ruelene, and Trolene FM. The Co-Ral is used either as a spray, a dip or a pour-on treatment. The Ruelene is used as a pour-on treatment or as a spray. The Trolene FM can be used as a mineral feed mixture or as a feed mixture.

Do not treat or feed lactating dairy animals. Do not spray with Co-Ral within 7 days of slaughter, do not treat with Ruelene within 28 days of slaughter, and do not treat or feed Trolene within 60 days of slaughter.

Watch Insects in New Alfalfa

One farmer near Green Ridge told me he had not realized his grasshoppers were serious until he found that they had eaten a strip completely around a new seeding of alfalfa and had eaten all the leaves from the rest of the field. In another field I found a heavy infestation of blister beetles. So, these new seedings need to be watched.

Treat for Hog Mange

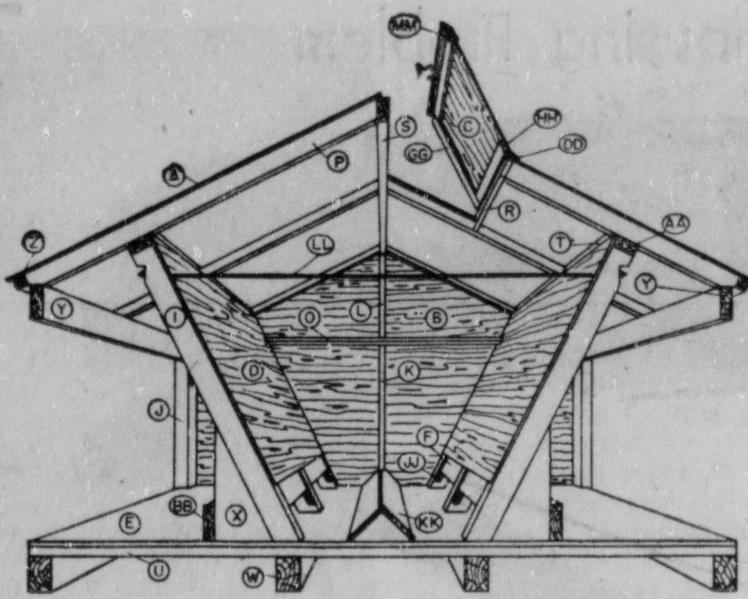

Pigs should be treated routinely for mange when they are taken from the sow at weaning time, the sows should be treated regularly 30 to 45 days before farrowing, and boars should be treated before the breeding season.

You can make a spray by using two tablespoons of the livestock formulation of 60 per cent Toxaphene emulsifiable concentrate in 1 gallon of water or by mixing 2 teaspoons of 25 per cent Lindane emulsifiable concentrate in 1 gallon of water.

Do not treat pigs of less than weaning age, be sure the spray or dip is thoroughly mixed, do not spray with toxaphene or lindane within 30 days of slaughter, and do not dip with lindane within 60 days of slaughter.

Interior Perspective

Dozens of ideas and plans such as this walk-in self-feeder, are included in the Midwest Swine Equipment plan book, says Ralph Ricketts, University of Missouri extension agricultural engineer.

"Almost any swine producer, no matter how small his scale of operation, can justify the $1 cost of adding this plan book to his library if he gets only one idea out of it that he can use," Ricketts says.

Self-feeders, waterers, holding and loading chutes, stock guards, gates, farrowing stalls, floor heating information, a section on management, one on weights and measures, and a great deal of other information, are contained in its 37 pages.

The Swine Equipment plan book may be obtained through County University of Missouri Extension Centers, or from Missouri Plan Service, 200 Agricultural Engineering, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

How and Why

Wheat Farmers Deal With A Changing World Market

By MERLE VAUGHAN

Extension Director

Wheat farmers today are dealing with a changing world market. In the last 10 years, the world market has done an about-face from a seller's to a buyer's market.

Following World War II, the need for wheat was critical in many countries. Most overseas buyers were not asking for protein, mixing strength, less clean-out, or other quality characteristics. Those who could afford it bought Canadian Manitoba to provide milling and baking quality in their blends. The United States, with one exception, was largely a supplier of calories. The exception was our Western white wheat, which had a reputation as a quality soft wheat and often brought a premium.

The picture began to change about 1954. Wheat production increased in deficit areas. France and Italy began to produce more than enough to meet domestic requirements. The economics of devastated countries like Japan and Germany recovered rapidly and they became our second and third largest dollar markets. Both were now in position to buy the types and quality wheat they wanted.

Japan's annual per capita consumption of wheat in the 1950's became three times the prewar figure. Although actual per capita consumption has changed little corn ear worm, fall army worm and green clover worm have been reported in late soybeans. The infestation is very spotty, but it has been estimated that the loss of one bean or pod per plant will cause enough damage to pay the cost of insecticide application.

since then, the demand has shifted from soft wheat for noodles to quality hard wheat for bread. Japanese imports of hard wheats have increased sharply year after year.

Since 1957, Japan has been the most important dollar market for U. S. wheat. But our share of the market has fallen from 68 per cent in 1954 to 40 per cent in 1962. During this same period, cash sales of Canadian hard wheat to Japan have risen by 30-40 million bushels.

This shift in the Japanese market took place mainly because Canada was able to deliver a consistently high-quality product from the West Coast. High quality U.S. wheat has either been used by domestic mills or too far from the West Coast to be competitive.

Police arrested 104 youths in Jerusalem last week in connection with demonstrations against the French-directed St. Joseph Convent school. Nine youths were arrested in Haifa and two in Tel Aviv in connection with demonstrations in Haifa and Jaffa.

Judgment Needed In Picking Bull

Selection of a herd bull for either commercial or purebred production requires excellent judgment and timely decisions, say University of Missouri animal husbandry specialists.

The specialists make three recommendations for selection of a herd bull for commercial production.

1. Decide what kind of cattle is most nearly ideal for local conditions.

2. Find what live animals most nearly have the genes needed to produce the ideal animal. This can be done by evaluating the conformation and performance of each individual animal; by paying attention to merits of close relatives; and by studying the progeny of each animal, if available.

3. Secure at reasonable prices, replacement sires that come nearest to the ideal, and allow them to reproduce in numbers proportional to quality of calves they sire.

To purebred breeders these recommendations are made:

1. Keep the herd closely related to the best animals of the herd, present and past. This can be done best through herd sire selection.

2. Select outcross sires only when it is necessary to prevent serious defects from being fixed in the herd. The higher the average individual merit in the line-breeding, the milder the outcross should be.

James Marlowe, 28, Florissant, Mo., was hospitalized with multiple fractures.

Marlowe had been filming a golf tournament for KPLR-TV, St. Louis, when the tower buckled.

A spokesman for the station said they have not been able to determine why the tower collapsed.

Cheaper to Buy a Wig

As if Viet Nam, Laos, Red China, Khrushchev and the refusal of the five-cent U.S. stamp to stay stuck on a slick envelope weren't enough to worry about, the stout-hearted men of metropolitan cities face another crisis.

They're confronted with the threat of paying $3.50 for a haircut.

One of the privileges of living in a town like Sedalia is the unlikelihood local barbers will adopt such a price which is enough to make the city brother's hair stand on end. Or better it should fall out.

Even with all the conversation, anointing, rubbing, vibrating, slicking and fiddling around that your friendly barber throws in along with his basic skill, a haircut takes less than half an hour. Not even that long for some of us.

What would imminent victims of a $3.50 haircut do about it?

Well, a fast and thoroughly unscientific survey of a dozen males with varying quantities of hair has turned up these facts:

Four would handle it the easy way by simply getting their hair cut every three weeks instead of every two. This not only is hot-headed, but is unimaginative and smacks a little of chicken.

Two would threaten to let their hair grow out in a Tarzan bob as a public protest. The trouble here is that neither of these guys is going to look anything like Tarzan. They will look more like a couple of fat English sheep-dogs.

Another rebel would have his head shaved ala Yul Brynner. Our guess is that his wife is still going to leave him at home to baby sit while she goes to the movie to see Yul Brynner.

Three fast friends would form a ban-the-barber brotherhood in which each brother solemnly swears he will cut another brother's hair. The flaw in this is that not one of these clowns can cut hair.

One young man of impeccable appearance says he couldn't care less. His mother has been cutting his hair all his life, and he only hopes that when he gets to college he can find someone to cut it half as well, at any price.

The twelfth subject interviewed in this in-depth survey is a hot-shot business tycoon who has a way with a buck.

"No problem," he said lightly. "I would put my money in a company that makes hair-clippers. With all the dividends I'd get as home haircutting catches on, I'd be able to afford a $3.50 professional haircut and not twitch a sideburn."

Maybe this genius has got something.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Chester R. Crain was reelected president of the Pettis County Teachers Association at the organization meeting held in the court house. Others elected were: Miss Nina Yeager, vice-president and Miss Gladys Ferguson, secretary-treasurer. Appointed to the executive committee were: Miss Lois Carr, Mrs. William Finley and William Finley. Crain, C. F. Scotten, county superintendent of schools, Finley, Catherine Jones and Virginia Younger were chosen delegates to the state association meeting in Kansas City.

Spain Moves Toward More Freedom

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson has now returned to the United States, but this column was written while he was near the end of his recent trip to Spain.)

By DREW PEARSON

MADRID — When Pope Paul was Cardinal of Milan a little over a year ago, he sent an indignant protest to Generalissimo Franco in Spain against the death penalty for two Spanish terrorists on trial for their lives in Barcelona.

The Spanish foreign minister replied rather tartly that this was a domestic matter, that only the prosecutor had recommended the death sentence and there had been no court decree. In the end, the Spanish court bowed either to the Cardinal or humanitarianism or both, and gave the two terrorists 20 years instead of death.

Because of this incident, it has been predicted that Pope Paul would be a vigorous critic of Franco. This has not proved to be the case, though it is a fact that the Catholic Church has become a leavening social force in the relaxing atmosphere of modern Spain; while the Spanish government has been a leavening force with the church in regard to religious worship.

The net effect has been healthy. HOAC, the Catholic Labor Organ, has been subject to just as much censorship by the Spanish government as any other newspaper, and its editors complain that, although they no longer have to submit copy to the censor in advance, their newsprint supply is curtailed if they are too critical.

Bishops Defend Strikes

HOAC, however, may become the bridge between the authoritarian syndicates — the government trade unions — and the concept of free trade unions as known in the United States. Already the church has stepped out in front in battling for the rights of labor. And during the strike of the coal miners in Asturias last year, the Bishop of Valencia and the Bishop of Oviedo both made courageous statements championing the workers' right to strike — despite the fact that strikes are against the law in Spain.

During this same coal miners' strike last year, pastoral letters were read in all the parishes in the Asturias area quoting Pope John's first encyclical regarding the rights of working men.

The young priests in Spain are definitely on the liberal side, and the fact that some 300,000 Spaniards are employed in France and Germany and have returned with more liberal ideas, likewise has had an impact both on the church and on the Franco regime.

Meanwhile, Foreign Minister Fernando Castiella is credited by the Protestant Bishop of the Spanish Reformed Church, Santos-Molina, with going to bat for Protestant worship in Spain.

This is important to several thousand American troops now stationed in Spain who have been required to marry in the Catholic church and to participate in church ceremonies during military parades. Foreign Minister Casti-ella recognized this problem in petitioning the Vatican for a change in the concordat governing relations between the Catholic Church and the Spanish government.

Writing in America, official Jesuit organ, last month, Castiella said: "A highly controversial issue is the attendance of non-Catholics in military service at religious ceremonies. . . . Another matter that has frequently been a bone of contention is the burial of non-Catholics. This problem has usually been tactfully solved in the larger cities but not in the smaller towns."

Castiella also referred to the "most important and most discussed marriage problem."

The Protestant Problem

"A Protestant problem does exist in Spain," he wrote. "Though Spanish law obviously does not sanction discrimination, it embodies nothing more positive than a general statement of tolerance which has never been clarified through the enactment of subsidiary laws and regulations."

"There are several thousand members of the American Armed Forces at bases used jointly by Spain and the United States who, for the most part, are not affected by the religious problem," wrote Castiella. "Also to be taken into account is the Protestant fraction of the nine million European and American tourists who yearly visit the Iberian peninsula. The total number of these Protestant tourists ranges from the tens to the thousands to the hundreds of thousands, and is on the increase."

The foreign minister told how at the request of church spokesmen the Spanish government on Jan. 23, 1956, had closed a Protestant theological seminary and school in Madrid. Again, on April 18 of the same year, the government received another complaint from the church that the British and Foreign Bible Society was violating the press law. The Bible Society was then closed down for a three-year period.

"But in 1959, the Bible Society was awarded compensation for the illegal attachment of its property," said the foreign minister, "and some weeks ago, with the approval of the conference of Archbishops meeting in Madrid, it was authorized to resume its activities in Spain."

This was the relaxation of Protestant worship which Bishop Santos-Molina told me about.

Although urging the Vatican to revise the Concordat and permit more Protestant worship, Foreign Minister Castiella took a firm stand against Proselytism.

"In this matter," he said, "we wish to affirm our will to defend our Catholic unity."

"But even though it may fall to the Church of Rome to have the last word in this matter, all of us — Catholics and non-Catholics, Spaniards and non-Spaniards — can work together, and through prayer, mutual understanding, and a genuine ecumenical outlook, contribute to achieve religious concord in Spain."

So moves Spain toward more freedom—with Franco's blessing.

PALESTINE (Tex.) HERALD - PRESS: Imaginations In Orbit. — Ofttimes a reader of science fiction is called a dreamer. Yet, is he? Science fiction seems to foretell many a practical invention. For example, Sir Francis Bacon's "The New Atlantis," helped inspire the founding of the Royal Society. In it, Bacon predicted airplanes, submarines, and the telephone 250 years before Alexander Graham Bell finally invented it.

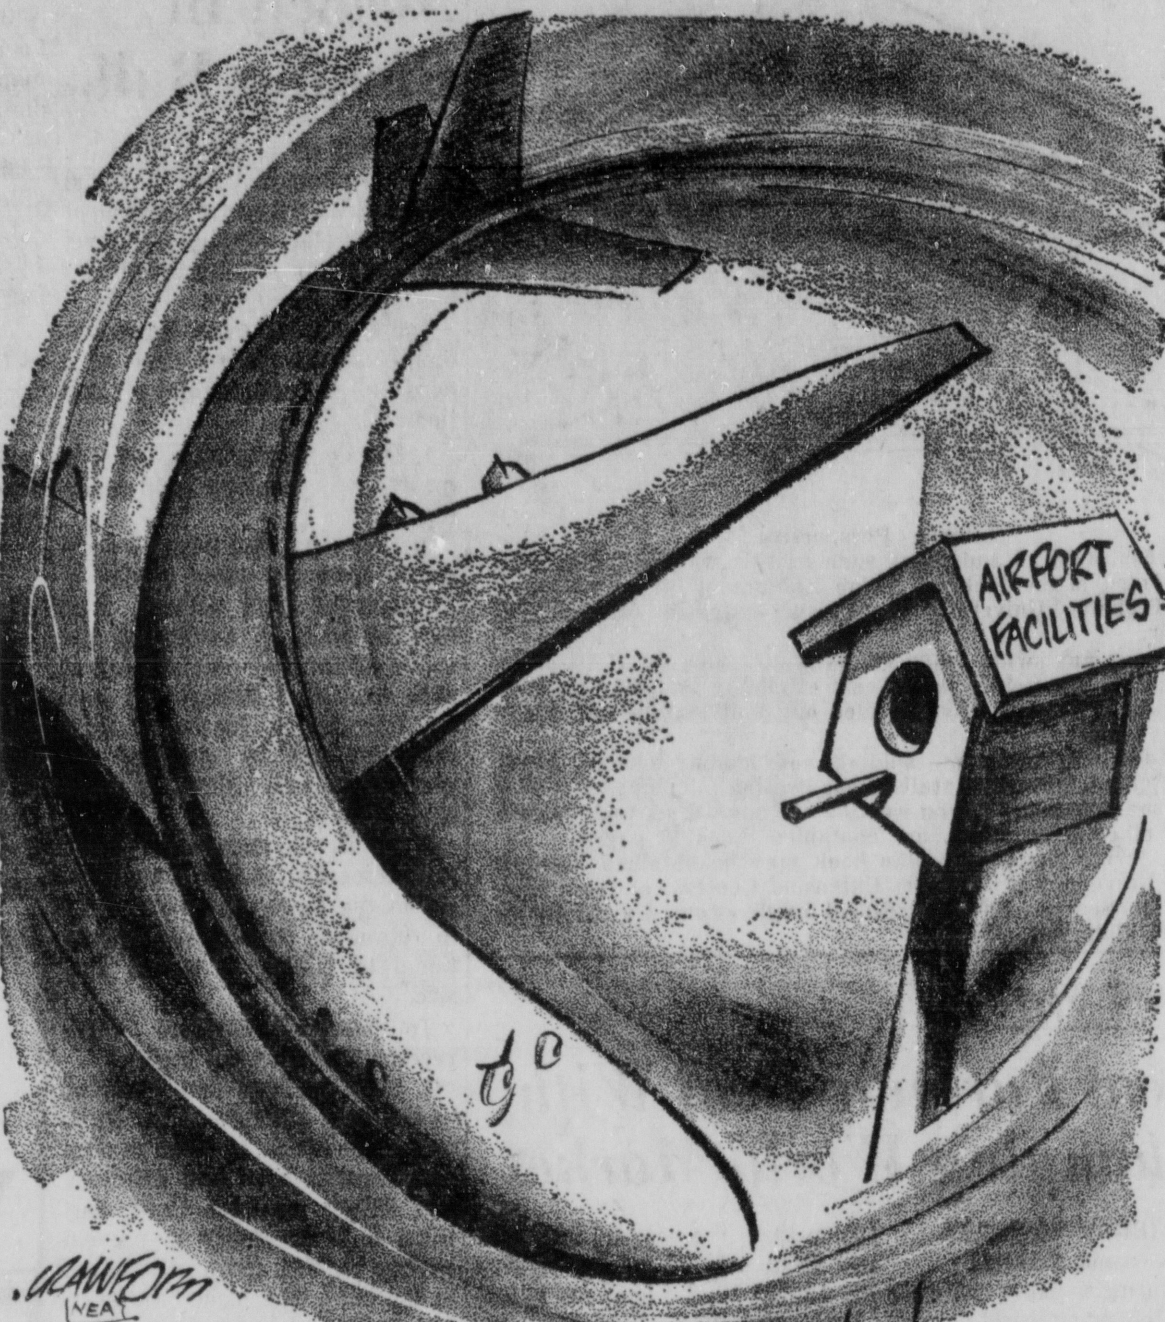

In 1760, De La Roche's "Giphantia" anticipated the television set by some 150 years.

Jules Verne predicted a variety of inventions; for example, he described the atomic submarine in "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," and the helicopter in "Robur the Conqueror."

And, in 1638, "The Man in the Moon" by Francis Godwin demonstrated the moon's gravitational attraction with the earth, even though it was a long time before Sir Isaac Newton started his gravitational principles.

A patent right does not expire in case the patented article is not put on the market.

No Tooth Marks In GOP Strategy

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater tried to lay down ground rules for himself and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in their longing for the Republican presidential nomination: No tooth marks.

"The Democratic strategy," Goldwater said, after Rockefeller seemed to pick on him, "is to have Republicans eat Republicans and I'll be damned if I'll follow it."

Whether it's Democratic strategy or not, President Kennedy seems inclined at this point to grin at the two rivals as if hoping they'll do exactly what Goldwater says he hopes they won't.

Their maneuvers, as they get closer to the Republican convention next summer, may be enough to split the Republican party without any help from Kennedy. In fact, if he went after either man it might help the GOP chances rather than hurt them.

Besides, as a president sure of the Democratic nomination in 1964, Kennedy is still champ while Rockefeller and Goldwater are not even challengers now since at this moment neither can be sure of his party's nomination.

But Goldwater and Rockefeller, while skipping around each other rather gingerly, have been snapping at Kennedy who so far has been content to treat them with a kind of fast brush.

His forbearance may not last indefinitely. Indeed, he indicated last week that he will go after one or both of them but choose his own time for the assault.

At his news conference last Thursday he was reminded about a Goldwater remark on Kennedy's handling of Cuba. Asked if he'd comment further "on this type of attack by Sen. Goldwater," Kennedy said: "No, no, not yet, not yet."

The president, asked about Rockefeller's criticism of Kennedy's handling of the economy, made a dead-pan joke of it.

The relationship between Rockefeller and Goldwater, now in only the very earliest stage of rivalry, should get increasingly unpleasant, if they follow the political pattern. Even now it can hardly be called jolly.

Last July Rockefeller expressed concern about "the radical right." It was after this that Goldwater expressed his distaste for cannibalism among Republicans.

"I don't spend my time worrying about conservative and too conservative," he said. "I worry about the radical left in government. We Republicans ought not to be harassing each other. We have a common political enemy, the Democrats."

This may have given Rockefeller some second thoughts. He said later this statement had not been aimed at Goldwater. Sunday, after a momentary hesitation on a television show, he said he'd rather see Goldwater than Kennedy in the White House.

Goldwater was asked last August if he'd support Rockefeller if the governor got the nomination. At first Goldwater did not answer this question directly.

He said this: "I have a habit of supporting Republican presidential nominees unless they are personally obnoxious to me."

Asked then if he found Rockefeller personally obnoxious, Goldwater said no. But he said he thought the New Yorker would do the country a favor if he explained what he means by extremists or the radical right.

Finally, Goldwater said he would support Rockefeller if the governor got the nomination. He said "this country can't stand another four years of Kennedy."

Goldwater and Rockefeller seem to have achieved complete harmony only in wanting Kennedy out, which is not an unusual trait among Republicans but is hardly sufficient foundation for a quiet and impersonal contest for the Republican nomination.

Purpose of Bland Diet; Soothe Problem Stomach

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D.

Q — I had a barium X-ray taken and it showed pylorospasm. Since there is no ulcer, why do I have to continue on a bland diet?

A — Since this condition is usually recognized in childhood, you have probably had it in some degree all your life. The muscular control of the outlet of your stomach is abnormally strong. As a result, your stomach is slow to empty.

After a heavy meal this condition may be associated with heartburn, bringing up of sour stomach contents into your mouth, or even vomiting. If you take frequent small feedings, these symptoms will bother you less.

Your doctor wants you to take a bland diet because such a diet leaves the stomach more readily than does a diet that contains much spice and roughage. Antispasmodic drugs sometimes help.

If the condition is severe, an operation to cut some of the excess muscle at outlet of the stomach must be performed.

Q — When I eat fresh tomatoes my teeth hurt at the gumline. It then takes several days of going without before this sensitiveness disappears. Is there anything besides not eating tomatoes I can do about it?

A — As we grow older the gums begin to recede below the enamel crown. This exposes the sensitive dentin. Dentists have used many preparations to desensitize the dentin.

One of the best is a mixture that contains sodium fluoride, kaolin and glycerin, but no desensitizer will prevent continued erosion by such foods as tomatoes, citrus fruits and sugar.

For this reason your dentist should search for factors that cause the erosion, in addition to the dietary factor. Prevention of further erosion combined with desensitization should help you.

Q — What is a hemangioblastoma of the cerebellum? What is the cause, the symptoms and the chance of a cure?

A — You do not say that you are the one who has this disease and I sincerely hope that you are not.

This is a blood vessel tumor of the lower portion of the brain. It runs in families, but no cause is known. It may cause dizziness, difficulty in walking, and headache depending on how big it is and how fast it is growing.

It is not a cancer and can be cured by removal.

Claims Britain Is Supplying Iraq

PARIS (AP) — An envoy of the rebel Kurds of Iraq on his way to the United Nations charged Sunday that Britain is supplying the Iraqi government with planes, light tanks and other weapons for mountain warfare.

Jalal Al Talabani told newsmen the Kurdish forces control most of the northern mountains, and the government occupies only several large towns. He denied reports that an independent Kurdistan had been proclaimed and insisted the Kurds want only self rule within the Iraqi republic.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles surveying Missouri's penal institutions.)

Diverse Programs Aid Rehabilitation Work

There have been a lot of changes in Missouri's penal system since the riot of 1954. In some respects, this riot appears to have been a good omen for the state in that it has changed the basic attitude toward prisoners.

One of the most notable changes was the instituting of a division of classification and assignment at the penitentiary for men in Jefferson City. Under this central clearing house arrangement, new arrivals are given intensive individual attention as their first taste of prison life.

According to a report issued by the division a complete diagnostic report is made on each arrival.

It is felt by prison officials that since the inception of this division, discipline is better, inmates are more productive in their work, the attitude of the inmates is improved and, importantly, the morale of prison personnel is much higher.

Today, a person entering one of Missouri's correctional institutions is not considered just a number. Instead, he is treated as an individual with problems. These two factors are part of the change created by Col. James Carter, director of the Corrections Department.

Donald W. Bunker, head of classification and assignment, is quick to express the belief that Missouri's system is one of the best in the country. In fact, there are fewer than a dozen such centers in the country although more are being developed.

When a prisoner is admitted to the penitentiary, he undergoes a routine finger printing, is photographed, bathed and receives a number. Then this vital division takes over.

Each new man is interviewed by one of four case workers in an effort to determine which institution is best suited to him and to what type of activity he should be assigned.

For the first 30 days, first offenders are segregated from the rest of the prisoners and undergo a thorough indoctrination. This, Bunker feels, is vital in shaping their attitudes toward prison life.

A psychiatrist is available to the prison and visits several times a month. Any inmate officials feel needs treatment for a mental disorder can be sent to other state institutions for care without a court order being required.

Educational Facilities Available To Inmates

Prior to the riot, little regard was paid to the educational needs of inmates whose average education is well down in the primary level. But, today, any prisoner desiring to attain an eighth grade or high school level of proficiency can do so with a certain amount of effort.

Tom Hageman, former Supt. of Schools at Blue Springs, is director of the overall education program for correctional institutions. And each facility has its own director. The system, watched closely by the State Department of Education, is set up similar to any school program.

There are 28 certified teachers employed, although some are serving on a parttime basis.

Typical of the work being done under this program is a prisoner who, only a few months ago, could not write a letter home or even read mail he had received. Now, however, this same prisoner is able, with only a minimum of help, to communicate with his family.

"Not only is he proud of his accomplishment," Hageman said, "so are we."

Prisoners attending school are assigned this full time. They go to classes in the morning and return to their cells in the afternoon for study. They are not required to hold a job in one of the prison industries. However, a few who work also take night courses.

It is through such educational programs, although not ideal at present because of a lack of funds and facilities, that prison officials hope to start many of the younger inmates back on the road to complete rehabilitation.

What They Say In Letters to Editor

L. L. STUDER (Mayor of Sedalia) — Regarding your editorial in your issue of Sept. 15 with reference to the controversy which now prevails between the City and the Missouri State Highway Commission, with respect to the installation of a Traffic Control Signal at 16th and Limit Street:

I want to make it clear that I am not, under ordinary circumstances, in favor of an increase in our speed limits, but it is a long-established fact that a traffic control signal is most urgently needed at 16th and Limit Street.

The Highway Commission themselves now concede that it is needed, but will not agree to proceed with its installation unless our traffic ordinances are revised to provide for an increase of five (5) MPH on both Route (65) and (50), which they state in their letter of Aug. 9, 1963, is necessary to provide for the smooth and efficient operation of traffic on all of the highways through Sedalia.

Under these circumstances, therefore, it does appear that a small increase in the speed limit of five (5) MPH is a small price to pay for the installation of a traffic control signal at 16th and Limit Street.

Moreover, the Highway Commission are presumed to be traffic experts and it does not appear to be reasonable to assume that they would recommend an increase of five (5) MPH, if there was a remote possibility that such an increase in the speed limits would result in any increase in traffic accidents in this area.

MARVA LEE FLOURNOY

(1603 West Broadway) — May the humble writer of this letter profess her vote of thanks for your stand on the speed increase issue. Your editorials presented a very graphic description of the probable consequences of a speed increase. As you pointed out, accidents can and should be prevented. The following views are held by the writer of this letter.

While totalitarian governments reduce the importance of the individual to a nonexistent factor, the United States is dedicated to the purpose of helping the individual. While such existing types of government seek to silence the individual, the United States seeks to strengthen the voice of the individual. The sole individual or a group of individuals representing a minority is respected in America. Should the United States ever fail to respect and listen to the voice of the minority, democracy as we now know it will die.

In the community the issue of increasing the speed limit is now before our town's representative body.

The opinion of the minority is not popular.

The attempt to seek ultimate welfare over momentary welfare is never popular.

However the minority's opinion holds the belief that the present speed limit best provides for the safety of Sedalia's citizens.

When individuals are considered, the results of higher speed in relation to these individuals should be weighed.

The small school child walking along the highway should be considered.

The old person trying to enter or leave his home on the affected streets should be considered.

The customer trying to enter or leave places of business on the affected streets should be considered.

The facts and figures of statistics showing that accidents increase with increase of speed should be considered.

A Math major related that the time saved going through Sedalia at the proposed speed increase would be about 50 seconds.

Are we willing to endanger life and property for 50 seconds?

Where is our sense of values?

Matter of Fact

Catgut is made from the intestines of sheep, or occasionally from those of the horse, mule or ass. One guess is that the word was originally kitgut. Kit meant fiddle and the present form may have arisen through confusion. The best catgut for musical instruments is imported from Italy.

Kilmer Tree Is Victim Of Old Age

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) —The huge white oak believed to have inspired Joyce Kilmer to write "Trees" will be cut down Wednesday, a victim of old age.

The tree's demise sounds a sad note for Rutgers University, site of the oak, and for those who say it was the tree Kilmer had in mind when he wrote the poem.

Others say the tree that inspired Kilmer is elsewhere. Mahwah, a community in northern New Jersey where the poet lived four years, contends Kilmer wrote of the trees that shaded his home there.

In Montague City, Mass., they tell how Kilmer wrote "Trees" after seeing a spreading maple in the yard of an old mansion. In Swanzey, N.H., 25 miles north of Montague City, it's thought the late poet penned "Trees" while viewing a group of maples during a vacation.

Belief that the gnarled oak at Rutgers was the tree of "Trees" has grown over the years.

However, a university spokesman admits: "We can't prove it the one Kilmer had in mind. But then, who can prove an inspiration."

The legend is that as a boy in New Brunswick and as a student at Rutgers, Kilmer sat under the sprawling oak, its branches spanning more than a hundred feet in near-perfect symmetry. He left here in 1906.

"Trees" appeared in 1913 in a literary magazine, while Kilmer was living in Mahwah. His wife, Aline, said 18 years later that Kilmer wrote it while living in a white frame house surrounded by tall oak trees.

There's a story told in Montague City that Kilmer was awed by a maple tree in the yard of an old home during his visits to the Rev. Edmund Casey.

Kilmer is said to have written from France shortly before he was killed in World War I that the maple tree in Montague City was the one he had in mind when he wrote the poem. It's not known what happened to the letter.

A letter from a resident of Swanzey to Rutgers says Kilmer spent summers at a Swanzey farm, and once, while sitting on a veranda and looking out toward a grove of maple trees, he scribbled "Trees" on a paper bag.

For some reason, the story goes, he threw the paper bag away, but a maid found the poem.

Whether an oak, a maple, one tree or many inspired Kilmer will probably never be known, but the oak at Rutgers, perhaps the best known of the "Kilmer trees," will be on center stage Wednesday.

The oak stands alone in a field, enclosed by a small white fence. When felled, it will be stored until a decision is made on what to do with the wood. If the trunk is sound, a cross section will be given to the Sgt. Joyce Kilmer American Legion Post in New Brunswick.

"But there's a question of how much of the trunk is sound and how much is concrete," a university official said.

"We've had hundreds of requests for pieces of wood from the tree," the official said. "Some people have even sent money, offering to buy a piece, but we won't be able to fill the requests."

Sharon Marriott, C. Thouvenel Are Wed Sept. 7 in Versailles

United in marriage in Versailles at seven o'clock, Saturday evening, Sept. 7, were Miss Sharon Kay Marriott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Marriott, Versailles, and Mr. Cloyd Russell Thouvenel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thouvenel, Stover.

The wedding took place in Versailles First Baptist Church. The Rev. Charles Saxton officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with white and yellow gladioli. Pews were marked with white and yellow satin bows.

Miss Mary Kay Pace, organist, played a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Elizabeth Nolting, Jefferson City, as she sang, "Always" and "He."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was designed with scalloped neckline, outlined with sequins and pearls. A large bow trimmed the back of the gown. She carried a bouquet of white and yellow carnations.

Candlelighters were Miss Diane Marriott, sister of the bride, and Miss Thelma Ensminger, their dresses were alike of yellow nylon lace over taffeta, designed with full skirts and cummerbunds. Each wore a tiara.

Miss Donna Marriott, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and Miss Linda Marriott, also a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore dresses of yellow lace over taffeta, styled with scooped necklines, bell shaped skirts and cummerbunds. Each wore a white capulet with matching shoes and gloves and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Barbara Marriott, sister of the bride, served as flower girl, and wore a frock of white nylon lace taffeta, with puffed sleeves and wide sash and carried a miniature bouquet of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Ringbearer was Master Steven Heimsoth, a cousin of the bridegroom. He carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow

Local CROP Committee Has Meeting

Don Callis, campaign director of the local CROP program, held an informational meeting for county workers in Sedalia last Thursday evening. The letters CROP stand for Christian Rural Overseas Program.

CROP has an appeal to farm families in that products which they have in abundance can be the livelihood of starving families in Korea, Africa and Hong Kong. This was the "gist" of the presentations at the meeting, by Harold Reisch, state chairman of the CROP movement.

The group attending saw a motion picture of families being fed in all three areas. Reisch said that since he and a part-time secretary at Jefferson City are the only paid workers, that better than 90 per cent of the value of all produce turned in reaches the needy area.

Products are not sent to a country unless they can go in duty free. Frequently the difference in exchange makes it possible for one dollar's worth of produce here to buy five to six dollars worth in that country.

The plan is to have one solicitor for each 10 farmers in a township. They will ask for commodities, as corn or soybeans, rather than dollars. Pettis County's goal has been set at $50,000 worth of commodities. Saline County, to the north, has set her goal as the equivalent of 10,000 bushels of corn.

All commodities, including corn, grain sorghum and soybeans, will be taken to cooperating elevators where it will be credited to CROP. These dollars are converted to corn oil, milk, poultry, red meat, or some other product. No cash is sent overseas.

Contributors have the opportunity to assign their contribution to be distributed by their own church group, as "Lutheran World Relief," rather than the World Council of Churches. If no church group is represented, then the World Council sends in a team.

The "kick off" meeting has been set for Wednesday night, Oct. 16. Local churches are being asked to use CROP as the theme for their sermons on Sunday, Oct. 20, and Tuesday, Oct. 22, will be the primary "Solicitation Day."

Township leaders who have agreed to serve include: Hughesville, Jack Fowler; Sedalia, John Knaus; Cedar, Charles Reine; Heath Creek, Robert Curtiss; Flat Creek, Isaac Snow; Green Ridge, Waldo Harbit; Longwood, Bruce Claycomb; Dresden, Roy Maples; Elk Fork, Lloyd Smith; Washington, Leroy Ryan; Bowling Green, John Speed, Jr.; Smithton, William Pate; LaMonte, John Jones; Prairie, Orin Chappell; Houstonia, J. D. Gregory; and Lake Creek, W. C. Corlew.

Executive committee members attending the meeting Thursday night besides Callis included Matt Green, Rev. Charles Likely, Tom Smith and Oscar DeWolf. Other solicitors who had been invited by their township leaders included Don Clifford, Lake Creek; George Martin, Jr. and Raymond Aske, LaMonte; Julian Ream, Green Ridge; Gerald Volpp, Prairie; and William P. McCune, Washington.

No Longer Fears Red Retaliation

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Ten years ago, a young North Korean pilot defected to the West is a Soviet-built MIG15 and collected a $100,000 reward.

Komsok Ko—now 31 and known as Kenneth Rowe—lives in San Diego and said he no longer fears Communist retaliation.

"Now I have concluded that once you get to America you are pretty safe," he said, "and I don't know what kind of value they would get out of killing me. The damage is done."

Rowe still puts on dark glasses when he spots a photographer, however. "For the first few years I moved around the country quite a bit, and I don't want to move again," he said.

He lived in Washington, Montana and Delaware before moving to California.

His self-imposed exile ended Friday when he was introduced in San Diego Superior Court as the sponsor for his mother in naturalization proceedings.

Rowe's mother, Virginia Rowe, 53, formerly Sang Kum Ko, was his only family when he defected.

She came to the United States under an "alien hardship bill" visa in 1957 as did her son two years earlier.

"I became a citizen a year ago in Seattle," Rowe said.

Rowe has lived in San Diego for a year, has three children since his marriage in this country, and is employed at General Dynamics-Astronautics as a thermodynamics engineer. He declined to elaborate on his wife and children and was reluctant in discussing his reward.

"Believe it or not, I did not have knowledge that America had offered any such reward. The first I heard of it was at a press meeting when some reporter asked what I was going to do with the money," Rowe said.

Rowe said he invested his money safely in blue chip securities and has not touched his capital.

"I put myself through college on the East Coast on the returns."

Rowe, who flew 60 combat missions, said he trained for about a year in Manchuria after being taken out of the Korean naval academy and put into the service when the Korean war started.

Set for 3-game Series

Cards Within One Game Of Dodgers League Lead

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

"We've been fortunate in the past. When we play a bad game we turn around and beat someone pretty good," said Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston.

"I can't think optimistically or pessimistically about the pennant race. When you meet head on, anything can happen regardless of how good you're going," said St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane.

They said it Sunday after the stage was set for the beginning of a three-game series tonight at St. Louis between the first-place Dodgers and second-place Cardinals that likely will determine the National League pennant winner.

Alston said it following a 6-1 loss to Philadelphia in which three passed balls, a couple of mental lapses and the five-hit pitching of the Phillies' Dallas Green left the Dodgers with a mere one-game lead over the surging Cardinals.

Keane said it after Lew Burdette's six-hit pitching and Ray Sadecki's five-hitter gave St. Louis a 3-2 and 5-0 doubleheader sweep of Milwaukee, their 10th straight victory and their 19th in 20 games in a bid to overhaul Los Angeles.

The Dodgers, who led by seven games on Aug. 30, have 12 games remaining. The Cardinals, who have lost only one game since Aug. 30, have 10 left. They're all even in victories, with St. Louis two games back in the lost column.

The pitching rotation looks like this for the three-game series:

Los Angeles—Johnny Podres, 13-10; Sandy Koufax, 23-5, and probably Pete Richert, 5-1.

The American League champion New York Yankees edged Minnesota 2-1 Boston whipped Kansas City 5-3, Baltimore downed Detroit 2-1 and Cleveland defeated the Los Angeles Angels 6-3. The Chicago White Sox and Washington

Green, a rarely used right-hander brought his record to 6-4 against the Dodgers, allowing the only run on a homer by Tommy Davis in the fourth inning. The Phillies already had put it out of reach when they got to Don Drysdale, 17-17, for two runs in the first inning on a single by Tony Taylor, his steal of second, Johnny Callison's single, a bunt single by Wes Covington and Roseboro's first passed ball.

Two more passed balls by Roseboro, a late throw by Ron Fairly on a sacrifice and Roy Sievers' home run led to the rest of the runs.

Were the errors indicative of the Dodgers' choking?

"As soon as someone makes an error or gets beat that's the first thing you guys think about," said Alston. "We do that once in a while. That doesn't mean anything. It hasn't bothered the club."

The Cardinals came off a nine-game winning streak and now have a 10-game string. In the last eight games, the pitching staff has come up with five shutouts.

Burdette, 9-11, had one until the seventh when Hank Aaron hit his 42nd homer, with one on. The Cardinals already had their three runs on a double by Ken Boyer and Bill White's homer in the second and Boyer's homer in the fourth.

Sadecki, 10-8, had an easier job, backed by a 14-hit attack that included three hits each by Charley James and Tim McCarver. Singles by Curt Flood, James, McCarver and Julian Javier gave the Cardinals two runs in the second—more than they needed.

"We're ready as we ever will be," said Keane.

In the other games: Tisouris, 10-8, lost his bid for a shutout when Billy Williams hit a homer for the Cubs in the ninth. Eddie Kasko led the Reds attack against Dick Ellsworth, 20-10, with three hits.

The Giants scored five runs on four hits in the opener while Chris Zachary and Hal Woodeshick combined on a three-hitter for the Colts' second game shutout.

Yankees Down Minnesota 2-1

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Whitey Ford is ready any day the Dodgers and Cardinals get things settled. If the Dodgers win, he and Sandy Koufax will open the World Series. If the Cardinals prevail, Ford's Yankee Stadium opponent Oct. 2 probably will be Curt Simmons.

Ford proved Sunday that he is primed for his usual October exercise. The New York Yankees ace threw a two-hitter at the Minnesota Twins for his 23rd victory, 2-1.

Financially speaking, Ford and the Yanks undoubtedly would vote for a rich series with Los Angeles and its big ball park. However, the possibility of a head-to-head joust with the fearless St. Louis club and a dramatic final appearance for Stan Musial must be alluring.

No matter who wins the National League, the Yankees aren't going to let any rust develop after their early pennant clinching in the American League. The defeat dropped Minnesota into third place behind Chicago whose game at Washington was rained out.

Baltimore edged Detroit 2-1 although the Orioles were victims of the first triple play in the league since 1960. Felix Mantilla's two-run homer off John Wyatt enabled Boston to down Kansas City 5-3. Cleveland beat Los Angeles 5-3 and Bo Bolinsky 6-3.

Ford has won six in a row and has equalled Koufax's total for the season. The victory was No. 100 for the Yanks, four more than they won last year with 10 more games to go.

That triple play against Baltimore resulted when Milt Pappas popped a bunt to first baseman Norm Cash with men on first and second. The Orioles scored the winning run for Pappas on a wild pitch. Jim Gentile homered for the Orioles and Cash for the Tigers.

The Indians got only five hits off Belinsky in 5-1-3 innings but they handed him his fifth straight defeat in the majors and his eighth of the season. It was Bo's second start since his return from Honolulu and the Pacific Coast League. Mudcat Grant won with a 10-hitter. Woody Dees homered for Cleveland, Charley Dees for the Angels.

Will Open Valley Play On Saturday

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tulsa, Cincinnati and North Texas are expected to make winning starts in an opening Missouri Valley schedule of four night games Saturday, but Wichita will be an underdog against potent Arizona State at Tempe, Ariz.

Valley teams lost 18 of 28 games outside the league last year but should do better this fall, if for no other reason than Louisville has been added to the conference. Louisville doesn't open until Sept. 28.

Arizona State was the nation's total offense leader last year with 384 yards a game, including 234 rushing and 150 passing. Most of the team returns, with quarterback John Jacobs, end Herman Harrison, and seven backs who have run under 10 seconds for 100 yards. One of them is Henry Carr, world record holder in the 220-yard dash.

Tulsa's defending Valley champions will face Montana State College of Bozeman at Tulsa. This team is rated no better than third in the new five-team Big Sky conference and lost to Wichita by 22 points in '62.

Coach Glenn Dobbs will take the wraps off Jerry Rhome, a talented passer and SMU transfer. Rhome's best target in the pro-type Tulsa air game is John Simmons, the nation's No. 2 pass receiver in '62.

Cincinnati lost halfback Royce Starks in the classroom but Coach Chuck Studley has Al Nelson, who's even faster, at the other halfback, plus a highly rated juco transfer, Big Owens, at quarterback. It should be more than enough against Drake at Cincinnati. Drake was hit heavily by graduation losses from its 8-2 team of last year. The Bulldogs are Valley members but don't compete for the football title.

North Texas beat Texas Western 19-6 last year and has enough to repeat this time at El Paso. The Eagles lack only line depth and a strong passing game. Their running backs will equal any Valley team.

Schedule Looks Like Top Teams

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Eight football schedule Saturday reads like the nation's top teams, with Southern Cal, Northwestern, Arkansas, Clemson and TCU. It may be the toughest opening card in league history.

Southern Cal's defending national champs, rated no. 1 in the first Associated Press poll, will play undermanned Colorado at Boulder.

Missouri has an outside chance at Columbia against Northwestern ranked no. 6 nationally and a Big Ten title co-favorite. But Oklahoma State will be over-matched against eighth-ranking Arkansas at Little Rock.

Oklahoma's defending Big Eight champs, rated no. 4 nationally, are favored but could have their hands full against Clemson at Norman. Clemson is a prime threat to displace Duke as Atlantic Coast conference champ. Frank Howard admits his 24th Clemson team could be one of his best.

Nebraska, given the best chance to upset Oklahoma in the league race, should outclass South Dakota State's North Central co-champs at Lincoln. OU and Nebraska might be the only Big Eight teams in the winner's circle. The league will have trouble matching its 15-11-1 non-conference record of 1962.

Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma will be opening with sophomores at quarterback, which is bound to hamper their chances.

Gary Lane has been impressive with his passing and running in Missouri drills and Dan Devine is expected to have a more diversified offense. But Northwestern quarterback Tom Myers is one of the nation's best passers. The Wildcats are loaded with good linemen and fast backs.

Kansas will take the wraps off

Steve Renko, a 6-foot-4, 210 pound rookie with all the talent he needs. Fleet Gale Sayers gives the Jayhawks an edge in backfield speed. But the TCU defense, third-ranked behind powerful Texas and Arkansas in the Southwest, may be too much.

Oklahoma State, green but well conditioned under new coach Phil Cutchin, will be watched closely by the other schools. The Cow-boys are an unknown factor but have a top passer in Mike Miller. Iowa State could surprise California if tailback Dave Hoover is able to play. K-State has hopes of ending an 18-game losing streak with a bigger line and revamped backfield, but BYU has the edge in experience and speed. The league's other new coach, Eddie Crowder at Colorado, is encouraged by the progress of converted halfback Leon Mavity at quarter.

Buzzing Object A Television Tube

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A mysterious object confronted police and Army bomb experts Sunday in the parking lot at San Francisco's Palace of the Legion of Honor. The thing was buzzing.

The skirmishers found it wasn't radioactive but they couldn't seem to dismantle it. So they shot it. It stopped buzzing.

The police took it in for further analysis. Inspector Jack Long, an amateur radio bug, took a look at it.

Low Burdette Exhausted, And Happy

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Low Burdette lay on the rubbing table in a corner of the Cardinal clubhouse exhausted and happy Sunday.

The long, lean St. Louis right-hander was grinning from ear to ear.

"This game," he drawled in that nasal West Virginia twang of his, "might have meant my livelihood. You never can tell. Until now, I haven't been able to do the job for this club I knew I could. Things haven't gone right for me ever since I came. But it's different now. I think I've proved to everybody that I can still win the big ones."

And it was a big one—perhaps the biggest yet—that Burdette won for the Cards Sunday. The 36-year-old pitcher, who was considered washed up by some, turned back his former Milwaukee teammates, 3-2, in the front end of a double-header. The inspired Redbirds went on to win the second game, 5-0, behind young Ray Sadecki and closed to within one game of the first place Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League.

The end of the season can't come too soon for Kansas City. The A's blew a three-run lead Sunday in Kansas City and lost to the Boston Red Sox 5-3, on Felix Mantilla's two-out homer in the ninth inning.

Kansas City managed to hang onto eighth place by percentage points only because ninth place Los Angeles lost. The A's still have 12 games left.

John Wyatt, in relief of Diego Segui, was the victim of Mantilla's blast. He is now 5-3. Segui went 6-2-3 innings and gave up seven hits and three runs before Wyatt took over.

The A's bunched all their runs in the fourth inning with Norm Siebern, Jerry Lumpe and Charley Lau driving them home. Kansas City has an open date today before moving to Washington for a night game.

A two-run homer by Bill White in the second inning and Ken Boyer's solo shot in the fourth accounted for all of the St. Louis scoring in the first game.

Burdette limited the Braves to six hits. Hank Aaron's two-run homer in the seventh proved to be Burdette's only let down as he came back to shut out Milwaukee in the last two innings.

Sadecki hurled a five-hitter in the second game in winning his tenth against eight defeats. He struck out six and walked four. Two double plays aided his cause.

Curt Flood, Charley James, Tim McCarver and Julien Javier singled to score two runs in the second inning of the second game.

The Cards added a single score in the fourth on three singles and a force out. In the seventh, a single, an error and another single produced the final two runs.

Burdette's victory was his third since coming to the Cardinals, all against his former teammates. He has a season record of 9 and 11.

The Cards vital three game series with the Dodgers opens tonight at Busch Stadium with Johnny Podres starting for Los Angeles against Ernie Broglio.

Mrs. Lorene Hofheins

Reception Honors Eastern Star Grand Representative

A reception honoring Mrs. Lorene Hofheins, Grand Representative of Delaware, was given by Pettis Chapter No. 279, Order of the Eastern Star, at the Masonic Temple recently.

On the wall back of the dais was a large map of the State of Delaware, and at the front of the dais were the state flags of Delaware and Missouri, and vases of peach blossoms and hawthorn blossoms, the state flowers.

Preceding the meeting, there was a musical prelude by the organist, Mrs. Nora Watts. The meeting opened with the entrance of Mrs. Bernice Stephens, Worthy Matron, Handy Handley, Worthy Patron, Mrs. Irene Hansen, Worthy Grand Matron, and Edwin W. Kettleson, Worthy Grand Patron.

The Bible ceremony was given by Miss Ruth Burford. Mrs. Myra Bess sang, "Holy Bible, Book Divine."

The American Flag was presented by five members of the DeMolay Chapter, with Kenney Schilb, Master Counsellor, giving the tribute to the Flag. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by David Hofheins.

A tribute to the Eastern Star Flag was given by Mrs. Laura Lange.

The Worthy Matron and the Worthy Patron extended a welcome to all present.

The Worthy Grand Matron and the Worthy Grand Patron were introduced and welcomed by the Worthy Matron and the Worthy Patron. As they stood at the altar, Mrs. Bess sang, "There's a Rainbow," and Mrs. Hofheins presented to each a gift.

Other distinguished guests introduced and welcomed were Mrs. Viola Coffman, Past Grand Matron, Ray Luecke, Past Grand Patron, Mrs. Geraldine Molander, Associate Grand Conductress, Mrs. Mary Lou Lane, Grand Chaplain, Mrs. Fern Weber, Grand Marshal, Mrs. Vera Ward, Grand Adah, Mrs. Kay Williams, Grand Ruth, Mrs. Nellie Seng, Grand Esther, Mrs. Lila Brannock, Grand Martha, Mrs. Dorothy Haviland, Grand Electa, Mrs. Ruth Arnold, Grand Warder, and Robert A. Eight Worthy Matrons and three Worthy Patrons were also introduced. As they stood at the altar, the Worthy Grand Matron presented Certificates to the Worthy Matrons of Warrensburg, Knob Noster, and Green Ridge Chapters, and the Worthy Grand Patron presented a Certificate to Pettis Chapter, of which he is a member, indicating that those Chapters have contributed 100 per cent to the Special Project of the Worthy Grand Matron and the Worthy Grand Patron, the Golden Years Retirement Residences Project.

Past Matrons, Past Patrons, Grand Trailers, members and visitors were welcomed informally by the Worthy Matron, and the Worthy Patron added a word of welcome to all present.

Mrs. Hofheins was then introduced and welcomed by the Worthy Matron and the Worthy Patron. Her son, Waymon Hofheins, presented her a corsage from Leonard Hall, who served as Worthy Matron in 1956, the year Mrs. Hofheins served as Worthy Matron, and her son, David Hofheins, sang "I'll Be Loving You Always" the song which was sung to her at the time of her installation as Worthy Matron. Mrs. A. R. Beach was accompanist for David. A ceremony was given by Mrs. Celeste Baum and N. B. Patton, who were Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron in 1949, when Mrs. Hofheins was initiated into the Order, and by the Officers who served with her in 1956, with her husband, Charles Hofheins, singing appropriate words to the tune of "Sweet Genevieve." The Chapter gift was presented by Mr. Patton. Quiz Show Termed A Dreary Bore

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Six new series made their television debuts over the weekend, marking the opening of the fall season. Undoubtedly one program of great general interest was "100 grand," a quiz show in the old tradition, which moved into ABC's schedule Sunday night.

It would be pleasant to report that the familiar sight of perspiring contestants nervously wringing their brows and finally coming up with the name of a Civil War spy was, once again, sheer delight. Unhappily, however, the whole thing—the buzzers, ominous drum beats, the clock ticking off seconds, the fast-talking quizmaster, seemed a dreary, frenetic bore.

The contestants are sealed in a glass bubble that looks as if it came from outer space. I'm not sure why this is so, but then I'm not very clear either about the complicated quiz game.

The 90-minute "Arrest and Trial," also an ABC Sunday night entry, proved a very satisfactory pair of stories involving the same central character. The situation—a tough guy, mixed up in a cop killing—was familiar but the acting and the production were superior.

Ben Gazzarra, who plays the police sergeant in the series, is a particularly fine actor.

Chuck Connors, out of levis and into a custom-tailored suit, played the lawyer in a subdued and earnest style. Anthony Franciosa was impressive as the man Gazzarra arrested and Connors defended. It's an interesting idea for a series.

"Harry's Girls," a half-hour comedy about a hooper traveling around Europe with a troupe of three pretty girls—NBC's Friday night entry—was pretty thin stuff. The comedy was slight, and the plot was almost non-existent—something about Harry keeping a girl off the yacht of an Eastern potentate by forging a marriage license. It was very disappointing.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.
